Best Cases. Social Demographic Targeting.

Language Targeting.

Language Targeting allows companies to tailor their marketing strategies to the needs and interests of a specific language group, leading to higher relevance and better resonance. By using a language that the target audience understands, the message can be communicated more clearly and precisely, enhancing the brand's credibility. Therefore, Language Targeting is a crucial factor for the success of marketing efforts and strengthening customer loyalty.

Measurable Campaign Success.

DOOH meets Audio. Spotify Case.

Cross-media advertising, Spotify audio, and Digital Out of Home combined in one campaign. DOOH serves as a reach medium to convey advertising messages to a broad target group and simultaneously as a basis for targeted audio messages. This way, we effectively reach our advertising contacts on two channels.

DOOH screens form the basis as a reach medium for expansion into the audio world.

Results:

An increased willingness to use Wolt for future orders led to a 141% uplift. Among frequent Wolt users, an uplift of 120% was recorded. In addition to a 43% ad recall, brand sympathy also increased to 81%.

DSP as a programmatic interface, connects the outside world with precise audio messages.

Seeing and hearing. Two senses, two channels. Combined into one powerful medium.

Best Cases. Fanta – Happy Halloween.

Highest Visibility,
Live Content & Sound.

Fanta staged a unique live experience event at the Mall of Berlin for Halloween. Visitors were surprised by exciting activities at Happy HOLOWEEN, and the unforgettable spooky moments were captured on camera. The recorded material was projected as a huge hologram above the bus and transmitted to HYGH displays in public spaces within minutes.

To increase brand awareness, the display locations were additionally branded with Fanta branding, and in the checkout area, POS displays with spooky frames and accompanying eerie sound were placed. The mega event reached a total of 13.4 million gross contacts and left a lasting impression on the visitors.
